BOOST FOR THE FARM.

MINA is not much of an agricultural center, although it has aspirations in that direction. It is the metropolis of Mineral county, supported by railroads and mining, but the citizens of that burg believe in doing things so that Nevada will be advertised. Reno, Winnemucca, Fallon and Elko, towns that are trying to attract immigration, did not have guile enough to send a delegate to the dry farming congress at Tulsa, Okla. Even the Agricultural college could not contrive to send an exhibit from the dry farm at Elko. Dr. J. E. Stubbs was there at the expense of the state, but Mina sent W. W. Manning, a Southern Pacific employee, who cheerfully footed his own bills and came back loaded with a lot of practical information. The chief conclusion is that Nevada made the greatest mistake of fifty years' experience by not being represented, as nearly every western state was there, with exhibits to show what could be done and has been done under conditions that are not one-half as attractive as those found in Nevada. Even distant Alberta, 5000 miles from the show place, was there with the goods. Great Britain, China, Austria and Hungary took part, but Nevada, that is yearning for settlers, could not muster enough money in any of the agricultural counties to warrant sending either delegates or exhibits. Napoleon remarked that God is always with the strongest armies, and this may be paraphrased by saying population follows the line of enterprise. If people at home have not the nerve to help themselves, they should not expect others to help them. Humboldt county and Elko county complain of the increased valuation of their taxable property, but, without this increase, it is a notorious fact that these counties have the lowest tax rate in the state. They are rolling in wealth that is increasing at a phenomenal rate, and thousands of dollars' worth of property that has heretofore escaped the assessor is coming to light. This suggests the propriety or expediency of these counties doing something for themselves in the publicity line. Both counties have supported publicity bureaus and both counties have failed to sustain the men who devoted their time to exploiting the resources of the empire in which they are situated. They have looked to the support of individuals and the time of their secretaries has been occupied chiefly in collecting dues when they could be more efficient if they were footloose to gather facts, statistics and crop exhibits to draw population to their sparsely settled lands.

Chambers of commerce in small communities have always been cramped for funds, and the burden of the work usually falls on the shoulders of twenty or thirty live wires who seldom reap benefits commensurate with their payments. In such opulent counties as Elko, Humboldt and Washoe this condition is a crying shame. Each of these counties should do its share as a county obligation, and thus distribute the responsibility and cost among the taxpayers, who would find their taxes reduced by a greatly increased population and the growing value of their landholdings.

Judge Landis is alive to the cost of high living. He fixed the value of the life of a soldier killed in a wreck on the Mobile & Ohio railroad at $2500 after that company had settled with the soldier's mother for $750. The company paid the money, too. This is the same judge who fined the Standard Oil $200,000 for violating the anti-trust law.

Well, it wasn't so bad, after all. The weather at Tonopah beats the world, and those who complain of the cold yesterday will be surprised to hear that the lowest reading up to this morning was only 19 above zero. From the way some grouches talk, one would imagine a section of Antarctic temperature had struck the camp.

It is pleasant to note that Sergeant Danenhauer, of the United States sixth infantry, stationed in Japan, kept himself "daily posted on the mines of southern Nevada" by reading an esteemed contemporary, but it will be news to most people that there is a daily mail service across the Pacific.

A Woman Is Only a Woman, But a Good Cigar Is a Smoke!

—Kipling

The thought of women and cigars are closely allied during the holiday season, for usually the women know that the right selection of a box of cigars will make any smoker smile.

The many trite stories about cigars bought by women will not be applicable to purchases made here. If "he" is a smoker you need not worry more about a gift for him—give him a box of cigars. We have a fine line of.

CHRISTMAS CIGARS

—not the kind they joke about—but good ones. Cigars packed 50 or 100 in a box make a very acceptable gift.

We invite the ladies to inspect our stock. We probably know his tastes and can aid you in selecting one of his favorite brands. Cigars not satisfactory will be exchanged for others, or money will be refunded.

We also carry a nice line of Pipes and Smokers' Supplies.

The sixty-third congress expired by limitation Saturday night and its members began looking with the currency bill. This leads all around for rapid changing.

Presidents are invited to take a day off to digest the facts contained in the Business Edition of the Bonanza, to be issued December 31.

DOLLAR WITH MIRROR FOUND BY BANKER

Mel S. Badt, president of the Bank of Wells, while making up cash, found among the silver dollars one that he has retained as a curiosity. The dollar is genuine, of recent mintage, but some genius had rimmed out a hole about the size of a nickel on one side and placed therein a mirror.—Wells Herald.
